WPCA Mission Statement

The Worldwide Pollution Control Association (WPCA) has assembled a group of people and companies who are experts at some aspect of air pollution control. In addition, the WPCA has organized a user advisory board who can give this group direction and assistance in performing service to the Air Pollution Control (APC) business throughout the world.

The mission of the WPCA is to enhance technical communication through seminars, newsletters, and a website. The WPCA is a non-profit organization and our members and advisors need to be motivated by a desire to see the APC community make world wide technical progress through improved technical communication
